Sail to enchanting, ancient Greek islands on a summer voyage aboard the luxurious Sea Cloud.

Northern Aegean Islands & the Sporades Aboard Sea Cloud

Enchanting Greek Isles

June 25–July 3, 2020

Jessica Lamont

Assistant Professor of Classics
I invite you to join Yale as we experience Greece the way it was meant to be seen, sailing from island to island aboard the legendary four-masted Sea Cloud. Over seven days, we’ll travel under billowing sails from the sun-drenched isles of the Sporades to mythical, often overlooked towns along the Northern Aegean. On the picturesque islands of Skyros, Skopelos, and Skiathos, we’ll roam stately castle ruins on hilltops and tour ancient churches and monasteries filled with frescoes.

During a visit to Volos, we’ll tour the Archaeological Museum to admire painted stelae dating back to the 3rd century B.C. Our lunch affords us seaside views from the slopes of Mount Pelion, mythical home of the Centaurs. Sailing north to ancient Philippi, where the Apostle Paul introduced Christianity to Europe, we’ll see the partially preserved Roman city. The tomb of King Philip II, father of Alexander the Great, awaits us in Aigai, the original capital of Macedonia.

We are delighted that Yale Assistant Professor of Classics Jessica Lamont, a specialist in the history of Greece’s Archaic and Classical periods, will be traveling with us, providing invaluable insight into the region’s history and culture.

Also aboard this incredible voyage will be members of The Metropolitan Museum of Art and the National Trust for Historic Preservation making for a well-rounded group sure to appreciate the architecture, art, and anthropology of the region along with the warm company of friends old and new. The elegant Sea Cloud has just 32 comfortable cabins, so I encourage you to reserve your space early. Please visit yaleedtravel.org/greece20 to register, or call Yale Educational Travel at (203) 432-1952 or edtravel@yale.edu with any questions.

Warmest wishes from Yale,

Dear Yale Traveler

Sail in luxury for seven days aboard the classic barque Sea Cloud, and savor her elegant appointments, fine dining, impeccable service, and intimate size as we navigate the deep blue waters of the Aegean Sea.

Explore the archaeological site of Philippi, where the Apostle Paul introduced Christianity to Europe, and see its well-preserved Early Christian architecture and impressive Roman city.

Discover Greece’s little-known island treasures of the Sporades, featuring cube-shaped Cycladic houses; Venetian castle ruins; and medieval churches.

Highlights
Jessica Lamont
Assistant Professor of Classics

Professor Jessica Lamont specializes in Greek social history, epigraphy, religion, and material culture of the Archaic and Classical periods. Her current book project examines shifting notions of health and disease in Classical Greece, especially during the fifth century B.C. Additional interests involve the concept of “magic” in Classical antiquity—curse tablets, binding spells, voodoo dolls, and incantations. Professor Lamont also has research and teaching interests in Greek archaeology and material culture. She has worked for many years as a field archaeologist at sites in Greece and beyond, with a focus on networks of trade and mobility, Greek ceramics, and domestic economies. She studied at the College of William & Mary and Johns Hopkins University.

With her rich mahogany and gleaming brass, the legendary Sea Cloud travels under 30 billowing sails trimmed by hand. Her original owners, heiress Marjorie Merriweather Post and financier E. F. Hutton, desired a craft like no other. They spared no expense to create the largest private sailing ship ever built and in 1931, Sea Cloud was launched. In the ’30s and ’40s, as she sailed the world, the four-masted beauty was host to leaders including the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Sweden’s King Gustavus V. Now carefully restored by a team of master craftspeople, this great lady continues to offer elegant quarters, fine dining, and impeccable service. Praised by the world’s most discerning travelers, Sea Cloud receives consistently high rankings from Condé Nast Traveler. Please note: Sea Cloud does not have an elevator.
